

The World Is Our Mountain

We started with one question: where should Moncler climb next? We analyzed 181 countries and over 300 cities, building our own Global Luxury Attractiveness Score (GLAS) model.

The Ascent

"Moncler has redefined luxury in the mountains. Now, we identify the next global peaks for our lifestyle brand."

Objective

Identify strategic cities for Moncler's luxury lifestyle expansion (2025–27).

Dataset

Analysis of 181 countries: GDP per capita, luxury retail trends, tourist flows, and brand affinity.

Metric

Global Luxury Attractiveness Score (GLAS) to rank optimal expansion opportunities.

Strategic Insights

Market Momentum

70% of selected cities are emerging luxury hubs (Riyadh, Chengdu, Mumbai, Doha). 30% are brand anchors ensuring stability (New York, Calgary).

Growth Metrics

- Average luxury retail growth: +7.4% YoY
- Combined HNWI population: >1.2 million
- Retail infrastructure readiness: 8.6/10
